♥ World Hepatitis Day | 28 July

Hepatitis B and C affect over 47,000 Queenslanders, and many don't even know it. It can be silent, but the damage is real.

🛡️ The good news? Hepatitis can be prevented, tested, and treated. Hepatitis B can be prevented with a vaccine. People living with chronic hepatitis B can live a long, healthy life with regular monitoring and care. Hepatitis C can be cured with a short course of tablets. A simple fingerstick or blood test is all it takes to get started.

⚡ Take action on hepatitis B: get tested, get treated, get vaccinated.

⚡ Take action on hepatitis C: get tested, get treated, get cured.
